

by Alex Hiam, author of Silent Lee
 and the Adventure of the Side Door Key

Can you name these Literary Devices?

Down:

1. using words in an unusual order in the sentence for emphasis
3. conveying an important message through a simple representation of it
4. intentional uncertainty that leaves the reader and/or the characters guessing
6. exaggeration to make a point
7. a suspenseful event that makes you wonder what will happen next
12. old fashioned expression
15. the use of levity, often to defuse tension

Across:

2. an ironic or humorous way of pointing out a fault or flaw
5. an earlier scene or memory inserted into a present-time narrative
8. a wry phrasing that hints at a different meaning
9. comparing one thing to another
10. describing an inanimate object as if it were human
11. describing something as less than it is
13. hints of what's to come
14. a comparison to highlight differences
16. Hinting at something mean
17. an expression made up of two words that seem inherently contradictory

1, Anastrophe; 2, Sarcasm; 3, Symbolism; 4, Ambiguity; 5, Flashback; 6, Irony; 7, Cliffhanger; 8, Irony; 9, Analogy; 10, Personification; 11, Understatement; 12, Archaism; 13, Foreshadowing; 14, Contrast; 15, Humor; 16, Veiled threat; 17, Oxymoron.